

Skype calls with friends overseas. Setting the TV volume so the family members don't complain. Using the mobile phone in a busy shopping center. Appreciating every nuance of a classic Beatles track. Video calls with my new tablet PC. Not losing the plot even when going to the kitchen for more popcorn. Staying on course when the navigation system says "take the next left turn". Changing settings without others noticing. Taking a hands-free call in the car. Keeping up with the kids when playing video games.
